Candidates Near Filing Deadline; Papers Must Be In By Saturday

With the closing date for candidates to file papers only two days away, the tempo for election to public office in the March Election picked up this week with the announcement of more candidates.

Thelma D. Lopez, 104 Park Avenue Extension moved into the Selectman's race when she took out papers this week.

Incumbent Selectman Arthur D. Saul, Jr., is already a candidate.

The Town Clerk contest now boasts four candidates. Walter D. Shaw, 78 Thorndike st., became the fourth candidate to take out papers this week.

Already in the race are John B. Byrne, Mary Farrington and John Stanton.

Three candidates are in the race for Assessor including incumbent Walter S. Cooledge, Philip Clark and Claude A. Lopez.

Seeking three spots on the School Committee are incumbents Velma B. Brown, Doris M. Cremens and John P. Morine and candidates Martin Haske, Jr., Richard Leibowitz and Albert Woodin.

Seeking a five year term on the Housing Authority are Edward J. Doherty, incumbent, William O. Bercury, John Cusack, James A. Coffey and Joseph S. Daley.

Town Moderator Lawrence E. Corcoran is unopposed for re-election.

Seek 6 Per Cent Raises

Six per cent raises for Arlington Town Employees will be requested at Town Meeting under articles inserted on the Town Warrant prior to the deadline Monday night.

Just what articles will be passed hinges on the outcome of Article 5 which requests a 42 hour week for Arlington firemen.

Under Article 6, the Finance Committee has requested a six per cent pay hike for town employees with the exception of fire and police personnel.

The Committee under Article 7 asks a six per cent raise for police department members and 10 positions in the fire department currently working a 40 hour week.

New Jr. High A Possibility

The creation of a five-man committee to procure plans and estimates in conjunction with the possible construction of a new junior high school on land on Summer st. will be one of the key articles in the Warrant for the March Town Meeting.

In addition this committee would also look into the possibilities of remodeling or renovating the present junior high schools or construction additions to these two buildings.

Under a separate article in the Warrant a transfer of a portion of the Summer st. playground, adjacent to Washington st. will be requested.

This article needs only a majority vote for passage.

The land involved is approximately seven acres.

In other school articles, requests will be made for the installation of oil burners at the

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Green, looking over plans of Green's Hill at their home, 54 Brattle st.

Last week, an Arlington couple gave to the Town about two-thirds of an acre of land to be used for conservation purposes. The land, known as Green's Hill, surrounds the home of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Green, 54 Brattle st. The Green's gift is the first ever given to the Town for conservation use. In today's Advocate, the Greens explain the gift of Green's Hill.

Like any other fine gift, Green's Hill took a lot of thought.

Mr. and Mrs. Green had been thinking of presenting the land to the Town for some time.

Their problem was this: to whom could they present it and be sure that it would remain open land?

"We were warned that if we just gave the land to the Board of Selectmen for the Town, eventually there might be a road dug through Green's Hill," said Mrs. Green this week. "Or houses might be built on it."

"We didn't want that. We wanted to keep the land open—keep it the way it is. My son, William D. Green, agreed with us, though he now lives in California."

In December, the Greens heard that the Arlington Conservation Commission had called a meeting to tell Arlington citizens of their need to protect the small amount of remaining open space in Town.

Make Up Minds

The Greens went to that meeting and, according to Mrs. Green, "it rather made up our minds."

The Greens listened to the appeal for even "test pocket" pieces of land. They heard Conservation Commission speakers emphasize that preservation, rather than development, is the aim of the Commission. They collected a copy of the Conservation Plan for Arlington and a reprint of a magazine article on giving land.

And they took this information to California, when they went to their son's for a Christmas visit. They discussed it with him, and he agreed that giving the Town the use of Green's Hill for conservation would be a good idea.

Back in Arlington, Mrs. Green sent a note to Dr. Philip S. Thayer, chairman of the Conservation Commission, telling him of their decision.

"We were approached a couple of years ago by a real estate developer but refused to sell," she wrote. "Most of the land could not easily be built on, but there is a large flat place on which an apartment building could be built. It would spoil everything."

83 Article Warrant Faces Town Meeting Members

Arlington Town Meeting members will act on 83 articles when the Annual Meeting convenes, March 18.

High on the list of controversial articles to be acted on are those asking for pay raises for town employees (six per cent) and a request for land for a new junior high school.

(More details are found on these articles elsewhere in this issue.)

Article 17 asks that fire personnel with five or more years experience be allowed to reside within a ten mile radius of Arlington.

Article 22 calls for the acquisition of Votomate voting machines for the town.

Article 23 requests the acquisition of three lots of land in front of Arlington High School.

Article 24 requests new chairs and furniture for the Town Hall.

Article 31 requests the construction of a culvert from Grove st. easterly to the present Culvert at Peirce Field.

Under other articles the Conservation Committee will request taking in the Mt. Gilboa area and an appropriation of funds.

Rezoning is requested in the Gardner st. area, off Summer st. near Cutter Hill rd., Summer st. and Victoria rd. and North Union st.

A request will be made for the construction of a golf course in the Great Meadows.

A request to appoint a committee to investigate the feasibility of remaining in the Metropolitan Park and Play-ground group will be made.

A request will be made to discharge the present incinerator committee and appoint a three-member Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Committee.

A request will be made to Remember Charlie and the M.T.A.?

It seems that, according to the lyrics of a song, Charlie boarded the M.T.A. and could not get off.

And now, reports from recent Arlington Board of Selectmen meetings indicate that Arlington commuters are having trouble getting on.

In an attempt to determine how Arlington residents feel about the M.B.T.A. and the service it provides to Arlington, the paper this week is publishing a M.B.T.A. questionnaire.

It is hoped that Arlington residents will fill it out and return it to the Advocate no later than February 3. Results of the poll will be published in the Advocate February 8, and all replies will be forwarded to Mr. Leo Cusick, general chairman of the M.B.T.A.

With the publishing of the poll, Arlington residents will have an opportunity to state their views on M.B.T.A. service. Fill out the questionnaire on page 2—and mail it!

Parking Here Under Fire

The parking situation in Arlington was the highlight of discussion of a two hour meeting of the Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce last week.

Members of the Committee at the meeting were concerned with where the employees of businesses throughout the community could park their vehicles while they were at work.

It was felt that considerable business is lost because employees have to park in

Hydrants In The Snow

Black and white—these are two colors seen more than any others—although some will argue whether they are basically colors or not.

However, they are what we see on television. Black is a fine color for a baseball cap and white looks beautiful on a bride.

But for a fire hydrant we should have a color which is going to show up sharply under any conditions.

What color are the hydrants around Arlington? Mostly black and white—from what we've seen.

Whether these colors show up good at night is not the question, but rather whether or not they show up at all times and under all conditions.

There is little doubt that most of our engineers and firemen know about where our hydrants are located—even when there is deep snow on the ground, but how quickly can they be uncovered in an emergency.

—And now that we have reached the key point of the article—deep snow and fire hydrants—let's make some suggestions.

Suppose—just suppose—that during the past three weeks when winter did its darndest to send us all to warmer climes that Arlington had had a really serious fire.

Bad enough that the roads were many times partially blocked by cars, but where are our hydrants and how do we quickly identify them?

The snow was piled so high along the sides of the roads in many cases that it was impossible to see around the next corner.

In these cases where were the fire hydrants?

If there had been a fire in your neighborhood and the snow had covered the hydrant—what then?

Who shovels out these hydrants. How can they be easily identified?

Some suggestions—One of the first things to be done after a snow storm should be that hydrants can be seen.

This can be accomplished by having the town shovel them out, but more simply, why not a slim pole with a flag on the top which would rise well above any projected snow level.

This identification mark would help residents, town employees, fire-fighters to know immediately where hydrants are located.

And probably just as important in this weather of white is the color of a hydrant—a white top—ugh?

It's difficult enough to find items in the snow without having even a part of it painted white.

After all wasn't orange generally felt to be the easiest color to see in the dark, and under "difficult viewing conditions"?

Take these suggestions for what they might be worth. Maybe some of our officials have thought about them and discarded them in the past as not being feasible.

But it seems to this writer that anything that would save even one life is worth looking into?

Talk Around Town

One of the big "talk-arounds" this week is the gift to the Conservation Committee of a section of land on Brattle St.

About two-thirds of an acre's worth, the property is the first of what is hoped will be many gifts of small sections of land to keep Arlington green.

The Jaycees will hold their Annual Awards Banquet Sunday night at Cottage Crest in Waltham.

A big event coming up Saturday night is the 10th Annual Recognition Dinner of the Minuteman Council, Boy Scouts of America to be held at Valle's Restaurant in Saugus.

A number of Scouters will be recognized for 25 years service with Ken Cameron of Arlington "doing the honors".

And congratulations to Barbara LaShoto for her fine performance in the Jaycee Junior Miss Pageant on the Cape this past weekend.

Barbara was the winner in the recent Pageant sponsored by the Arlington Jaycees.

And to another Arlington girl, who now does her skating out of New York, although we still like to claim her as our very own, congratulations and don't ever stop trying.

Tina Noyes finished second to World's Champ figure skater Peggy Fleming last weekend—this make four years in a row that this has happened.

And regardless of how sorry we feel for Tina for not quite making it to the top, she must be a proud young lady to have advanced as far as she has and to be ready for another Olympics.

And with such girls representing us, how can we lose?

Three Arlington High seniors have been accepted for admission to Wentworth Institute. Included are John Bozzi, 102 Ridge St., Don Carr, 61 Park St. and Paul Kennedy, 83 Medford St.

Working on plans for the mid-winter program of the Woman's Auxiliary to Morgan Memorial, Feb. 9 are Miss Ethel Kenney and Mrs. George Humphrey of Arlington.

REGISTRATION GOOD

Registration of new voters in Arlington was high during the opening days of special sessions this week.

A total of 34 registered at the Town Clerk's office, while another 36 registered at the Dallin School on Monday night.

COLLINS CORNER

We have a new Mayor in the City of Boston, and one of the first recommendations dealt with having closer communication with the public, knowing very well that a citizen with a problem wants to talk to the politicians they help elect.

But sometimes, apparently, systems operate so smoothly that it is not necessary for the "powers to be" to give too much time to their elected jobs, and that was the thought when the news came out that the Arlington School Committee voted 4 to 3 to meet but once a month.

Once upon a time the Board of Selectmen was also the School Board, and while the town was much smaller, it must have taken quite a bit of time to do all the business necessary.

But it is most unusual that a department spending about seven million dollars can meet so seldom, when our Board of Selectmen meet every week. And the writer's mind goes back to the 1930's when boys and girls just out of college could not find work, and on Monday nights one could find the lobby of the Town Hall jammed with citizens seeking help from three Selectmen.

They had no jobs, food, light, gas, and were unable to pay their rent, or the mortgage payments on their homes. Oh it seems like a fairy tale to many, but it was true, and we wonder if the Selectmen met only one night a month what these needy people would do. They all needed instant action, and they only wished to talk to the politicians they had placed in office to represent them. As efficient a system as they had, it would have been chaotic if these three men were not available, as like Board of Directors in any large business they, and they alone, make the decisions.

So it's nice to see an organization so smoothly run that the elected members need only meet once a month.

Our present Board of Selectmen should try and learn the secret, and those long weekly meeting nights would be a thing of the past.

And now that we are in this mood, why is it that elected politicians that become chairman of their particular board refrain from voting only in case of a tie. Oh, now and then we find a Speaker of the House, or the President of the Senate, or a Chairman of a Board voting on a controversial article so that they can report to their constituents what their feelings are in such a matter.

This not only is good politics but good representation, and certainly gives to the voters an account of their stewardship.

Have also wondered why the votes of the Finance Members are not published, so the Town Meeting Members will know how their particular member voted on articles that are not approved.

Oh well things are good today, with very little unemployment, a scarcity of school teachers, two chickens in every pot instead of one, and instead of one car in every garage there are two, and one in the driveway. Happy days.

That Man About Town

By M. A. I.

What's going to happen in the great Meadows?

Probably nothing as has been the case for how many years? (the Boss must know, he's older than I).

The latest is for the construction of a golf course.

Of course the suggestion for this has been going on since the 'fifties—at least.

And what's wrong with a golf course in this area?

How much of the total land which belongs to Arlington, although located in Lexington, would be used for an 18 hole course hasn't been explained to MAT, but it would seem to be a logical solution to have a golf course on this property and use the rest for some other project.

Wouldn't such a golf course make the conservationists happy?

If not, why not?

They seem to be seeking clean, green areas around town, now what better than a golf course.

How can any land be better conserved than by making it into a place for golf.

Conservation people from what MAT has heard want to preserve the land we still have—keep it lush and green, while at the same time utilize it for some type of recreation.

In the Meadows both can be provided.

A well-manicured golf course would satisfy both of these needs wouldn't it?

Whatever is left could be used for nature paths, for

To the Editor

Dear Sir:

In your issue of January 4th there was an article containing statements made relative to the poor plowing job done in the Devereaux Street area. It is very evident that the person making the complaint is either a newcomer to the area or someone that would not know a good job from a bad one.

I have property at the end of Peabody Rd. and at the end of Hopkins Rd. which is one of the most impossible places to plow in the entire Town of Arlington. Cliff Larson has been doing the plowing in these areas for several years and does a magnificent job. He takes great pride in his work and many times gets very little cooperation from the residents in the area. If cars are left on the street during the heavy snowstorms that we have, the job cannot be done properly, but if the residents will cooperate Cliff Larson will always do an excellent job anywhere that he works.

Sincerely yours,

Wallace J. Flynn

Arlington, Mass.

MEETING SET

The Board of Selectmen Monday night granted permission to David Purpel, chairman of the school survey committee, to meet with the selectmen Monday night at 8 p.m.

Mr. Purpel requested a meeting with the board to submit the results of the school survey committee's deliberations and study of the secondary school housing problem.

In a letter to the board the school survey committee chairman also informed them that his committee is submitting warrant articles for a new junior high school, and renovations to the existing junior high schools.

a location for an incinerator.

I can hear the screams now. But why not?

How much longer will the sanitary fill land last in Arlington? Where will the town find more?

Other communities are in the same situation.

An area to be used for burning rubbish, either for one community or, for several, must be located in the next few years. Why not in the Meadows?

Eventually MAT can see truck loads of rubbish being transported to some distant community incinerator—maybe ten miles away—and all at an increased cost to the community.

Or if the town does not get in on an area incinerator, Arlington may have to build its own within the confines—but where? Can you imagine the furore this would cause?

The golf course sounds good—the incinerator suggestion has some merit, but frankly MAT feels any such suggestions will be filed in the wastebasket this year.

Not enough support boys.

Ed Ames, who formerly lived with his family in Arlington, has achieved national acclaim on records, television, stage and motion pictures. He opens Jan. 29 for one week at Blinstrub's. On TV he is "Mingo," a Cherokee Indian, on the "Daniel Boone" series.

A High Record

U. S. Air Force Major Albert H. Sweet of Arlington, ends his year-long Vietnam tour with the highest individual record of combat flying hours logged in his AC-47 Dragonship squadron.

Major Sweet accrued more than 1,050 air hours during 249 combat missions as a navigator aboard the gunship.

The major, a rated master navigator with more than 5,200 hours total flying time, has served at Nha Trang Air Base as a member of the 11th Air Command Squadron that operates from several locations in Southeast Asia. Major Sweet, who flew bombing missions during World War II, has flown the modified WW II vintage C-47 Skytrain as an attack aircraft in the jet air war over Southeast Asia.

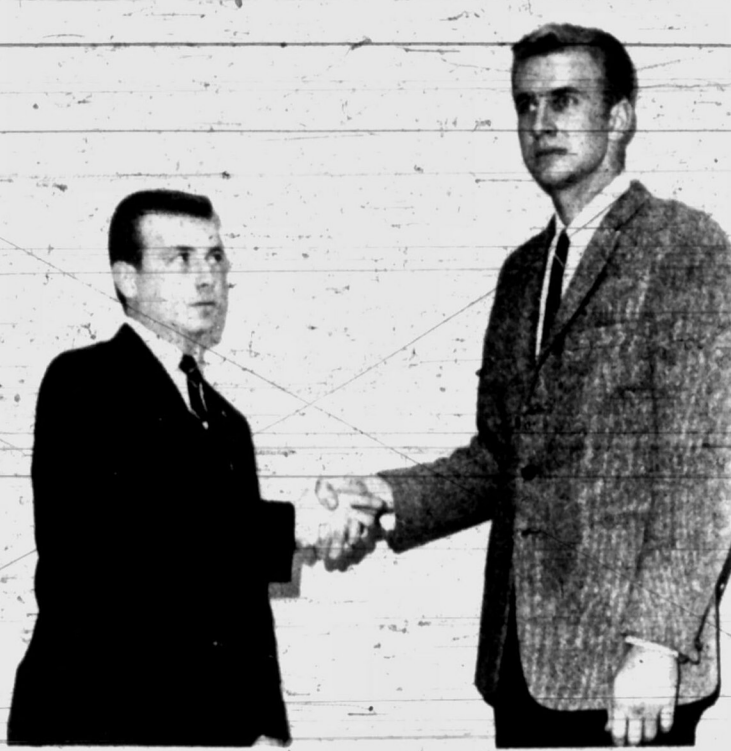

During his tour with the 4th, the major received the Distinguished Flying Cross and 11 additional awards of the Air Medal for heroic and outstanding aerial skill. He has received the Air Medal 16 times for superior airman-ship.

Major Sweet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude M. Sweet, 141 Jason st., is scheduled for reassignment to Robins AFB, Ga., as a staff development engineer.

The 24-year-service veteran was commissioned through the aviation cadet program and flew 44 missions for 450 combat hours in the South Pacific theater during WW II. A graduate of Arlington High school, he received his A.B. degree in 1951 from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., and attended Thayer School of Engineers in Hanover.

Major Sweet is married to the former Wilda M. MacLellan from Canada.

Congratulations

Richard W. Baker (right), 21 Stevens ter., is congratulated by Robert F. Ryan, president of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi at Suffolk University, after Baker's recent initiation. He is a Suffolk sophomore, majoring in marketing.

Graduated

Airman First Class Herbert R. Knight recently graduated with honors from the Flight Simulator Specialist Course, Chanute AFB, Ill., completing the course in 72 per cent of the normally allotted time.

Airman Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Knight, 8 Ravine st., is now a Flight Simulator Specialist at Westover AFB, Mass.

Airman Knight is a 1964 graduate of Arlington Technical High school and 1966 of Wentworth Institute was employed by Digital Equipment Corporation, Maynard before enlisting in the Air Force.

APPOINTED V.P.

Richard W. Buckley, innovator of the Magellan Art Technique and former Arlington resident, has been appointed Vice President/Creative Director of the Costello Advertising, Inc., Boston. The appointment was announced by the agency President, Mr. Patrick E. Costello.

Mr. Buckley, a noted painter, sculptor and lecturer is also Vice President of the "Never On Friday" club, a California-based organization.

REFERRED TO MANAGER

Arlington Selectmen Monday night referred to Town Manager Donald Marquis a complaint received from Mary H. and Annie L. Heaney, 1530 Mass. ave., alleging that Malcolm Keljikian, owner of Mal's Service Center, 1549 Mass. ave., continually parks and towing trucks in front of their property, creating a general nuisance.

The town manager will study the complaint and report back to the selectmen with his findings and recommendations.

Ready To Go

The Arlington Board of Selectmen have received a written statement from Mr. Frank Fitzpatrick of the IBM Corporation, stating that his company will send to the Town a satisfactory amount of IBM Votomatic units to properly conduct the March 2nd town election, and the April 30th presidential primary election.

Mr. Fitzpatrick also confirmed his verbal agreement that the town will be using the equipment at no cost, and that the Town of Arlington will be under no obligation to either himself or the IBM Corporation.

The letter further stated that no attempt will be made to negotiate a contract for the units until IBM Votomatic machines have been certified by the Massachusetts Secretary of State for unlimited use for any and all elections.

Introduce Investment Certificates

Harvard Trust Co., one of New England's larger full-service banks, with offices in Cambridge, Arlington, Belmont, Concord, and Littleton, Mass., today announced the introduction of its own Investment Certificates which actually guarantee the payment of 5 percent interest, compounded quarterly for five full years from the day the Certificate is issued.

Three different plans are available to individuals, corporations, trustees, and non-profit organizations: Plan A, Growth Investment Certificate, accumulates interest from the day the Certificate is issued to its maturity in five years. Growth Certificates are available in amounts ranging from a minimum of $1,000 up to $100,000 in multiples of $100. A minimum investment of $1,000 in a Harvard Trust Growth Investment Certificate will result in a total payment of $1,282.04 in five years; an investment of $100,000 will result in $128,203.72 in five years. This is the equivalent of an interest of 5.64%.

Harvard Trust's Plan B, Discount Investment Certificate, are available with Face Values ranging from $100 to $100,000. A $100 Discount Investment Certificate costs only $78. A $100,000 Certificate costs $78,001. The face value of the Discount Certificate is the equivalent of a yield of 5.64% in interest per annum which results from 5% interest being compounded quarterly when a Certificate is held to maximum maturity.

Plan C Income Certificates provide a guaranteed income quarterly without affecting the principal. $2,500 minimum and multiples of $100 thereafter are required, up to $100,000. On an investment of $100,000, Harvard Trust Income Certificates earn a total of $25,000 over the five years, at the end of which time the principal remains intact.

Harvard Trust Investment Certificates are available in any of Harvard Trust's 12 offices. These Certificates start earning interest the day the Certificate is issued and continue earning right up to maturity date. Redemptions are flexible with no penalty of rate. Harvard Trust Investment Certificates are redeemable without notice within 7 days following any quarterly anniversary, or are redeemable on 90-day notice in writing, with no penalty of rate in either case. Such written notice returns every dollar invested plus all interest earned without the need of waiting for a quarterly anniversary date.

With the issuance of these Investment Certificates, Harvard Trust becomes one of the first banks in New England to guarantee interest for five years, and by so doing to provide the safest and also one of the highest returns an investor can obtain for his funds.

Diet Workshop In Arlington

The following news release in conjunction with the "Diet Workshop" was received this week.

"Most of us face the problem of excess weight at one time or another, and meanwhile we are bombarded with so-called 'facts' about dieting from television, magazines and newspapers etc. Care to put your diet knowledge to a little test?"

Answer the following True or False.

"Margarine is less fattening than butter."

"Dark breads are less fattening than white breads."

"Toasted bread is less fattening than untoasted bread."

"Soft drinks are not very fattening."

"Good red meat such as steak, hamburger and roast beef are not fattening."

"Skim milk is so low in calories that you can drink all you want and it doesn't matter."

"All diets mean starving."

"You can eat all you want as long as you exercise a lot."

"Diet cookies and candies are going to make a person lose weight."

"Skipping breakfast and eating a light lunch always helps one to lose weight."

"If your having problems with your weight and you feel the need of not only more knowledge but moral support as well then join 'the group'."

Actually there are hundreds of such groups of people all over the Northeast who meet once a week to get inspiration and incentive to lose their weight and maintain that loss.

These are the groups of "The Diet Workshop" whose success stories have been phenomenal. Right here in Arlington a great number of people have lost weight and are happily keeping it off because as successful graduates of "the Diet Workshop" they many attend meetings "free."

"In Arlington 'The Diet Workshop' meets at St. Agnes Fidelity House, Medford st. at 8 p.m. every Tuesday. New members are welcome anytime."

"Here are the answers to the test. If you care to debate them or would like to 'arm'

The "TARS" Need Your Help

The newly organized TARS (Tegens Aid The Retarded) of Arlington in conjunction with TARS of Lexington is planning to establish a HYA CLUB (Handicapped Young Adults).

The HYA CLUB will provide retarded young adults with a place where they can associate with others of their own age.

The club will be run by the members themselves under the instruction of TARS volunteers.

Classes in personal grooming, dancing, sewing as well as a monthly social have been planned. The club will meet one night a week.

The club is badly in need of equipment, however, and would appreciate any donations in the line of games, ping pong tables, playing cards, records, phonographs, sewing machines, or any article which may be of some use.

They are appealing to the generosity of Arlington merchants as well as that of private donors. Articles need not be first-hand. Age is of minor importance. Anything in repairable condition will be welcomed most gratefully.

Anyone wishing to donate equipment may contact Miss Kathleen Sullivan, 16 Oxford st., Lexington, Mass., 862-4832, or Mrs. John Cusack, 20 Pine Ridge rd., Arlington, Mass., 643-6698.

Receive a Globe

The Vittoria C. Dallin Branch of the Robbins Library of Arlington has recently received a 16-inch National Geographic Globe as a gift from the Arlington Hts. Study Club, a group which has long maintained a special interest in the Branch. This most recent of their many gifts to the library will now be available for multiple uses. Durable yet light, it can be placed in either the adult or juvenile section of the library.

The globe, which is equipped with a base and a geometer, has been constructed on the scale of 495 miles to one inch, and bears the names of 5,588 places. Very up to date, it shows some of the newest and most detailed findings, in particular with respect to oceans, coasts, and the interior of Antarctica. In addition, locations of land based tracking stations used in United States space probes are indicated by small red symbols.

The Robbins Library Trustees, Librarian, and Mrs. Helen W. Thompson, the Dallin Branch Librarian, thank all the members of the Arlington Heights Study Club for their continuing interest and support of the program and purposes of the Vittoria C. Dallin Branch of the Robbins Library of Arlington.

Desserts So Nice To Come Home To

If you come home from a day's work to prepare dinner, you probably need the "lift" a good dessert provides. What with pudding and whipped dessert mixes, packaged pie shells and cakes, canned and frozen fruits, whipped topping mixes and frozen toppings, and fruit flavor gelatin, it's easy to have really luscious desserts with a minimum of work. For instance, just blend 1/2 cup applesauce and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg into prepared vanilla flavor whipped dessert mix before chilling. Or swirl strawberry preserves into prepared strawberry flavor whipped dessert mix in sherbet glasses. Or try this quick and easy pie.

Returns

Seaman Apprentice Gerard M. Keough, USCG, son of Mrs. James P. Keough, 260 Broadway, has returned to the United States aboard the Coast Guard Cutter USCGC Barataria following a nine-month deployment off the coast of Vietnam.

While in the combat zone the Barataria served as a unit of the naval force established to prevent the enemy from smuggling arms and ammunition into South Vietnam by sea. Also during the cutter's patrols it fired on enemy installations in support of U. S. and Allied ground forces engaged in combat operations.

The Barataria is the first Coast Guard cutter to return to the U. S. from a combat assignment since World War II.

Two Officers At Academy

Patrolmen Michael F. Burke and Howard D. Clark of the Arlington Police Department are presently attending the Somerville Police Academy, according to Chief Ferdinand A. Lucarelli.

The Basic Training Course, which is six weeks in length, will terminate Jan. 26.

Instruction is being given at Somerville Police Headquarters and at Tufts University, while firearms training is being held at the Concord Police Firearms Range.

Visiting lecturers at the training session are from the FBI, the Massachusetts State Police, the Office of the District Attorney, the Registry of Motor Vehicles, the National Automobile Theft Bureau, the Youth Service Board, the Office of the Attorney General as well as instructors from a number of other Agencies.

Police officers attending the school are from Andover, Arlington, Belmont, Chelsea, Malden, Marblehead, Medford, Provincetown, Revere, Somerville, Shrewsbury, and Winthrop.

The Somerville Police Academy has received the approval of the Municipal Police Training Council of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the State's mandatory police training program.

Arlington police officers Eugene DelGaizo and Robert Collins will complete a six-week training course at the Metropolitan District Commission Police Training Academy on Friday.

Award Winner

A new resident of Arlington, Charles Spero, award-winning professional photographer and businessman, has been named director of news and public relations at Cambridge School—Boston. It has been announced by Jack Nesson, vice president.

Spero joins the junior college following varied positions which have led to his winning awards in photography. He has also written advertising, sales promotion and other creative efforts.

Originally from Quincy and most recently from Springfield, Spero attended Boston University for one year and then transferred to Springfield College from which he received his BS degree and subsequently became involved in graduate studies. At Springfield College he was president of the Photography Club and a member of the school newspaper and yearbook staffs.

In The Dead of Winter

We are in the dead of winter with weather at its worst and winter-weary motorists and vehicles both are in need of a tune-up, according to Chief of Police Ferdinand Lucarelli.

"Traffic accidents are in the increase because of the early hours of darkness and the weather. Traffic tieups are frequent and exasperating because drivers are ignoring basic rules for survival in winter weather, or are failing to keep their cars in top condition," Chief Lucarelli said.

"Winter storms can really slam into us at this period and it is a good time to review the six basic tips for safe winter driving developed by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards."

The official said investigations show, as they do every winter, that the driver who piles his car up on snow or ice-covered roadways is a guy who tries to boom along at summer speeds, has failed to winterize his car, is too lazy to clean his windshield and other windows, or who laughs at the need for tire chains in deep snow or on glare ice.

The six winter driving tips reviewed by the chief are as follows:

1. Get the "feel" of the road. Accelerate carefully at low speed and away from other traffic to see if the wheels spin. Then brake to see if they skid. Reduce speed accordingly, steer gently and smoothly, use gas and brake pedals sparingly.

2. Increase your following distance. It takes three to nine times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement, so lengthen your following distance to suit road and weather conditions.

3. "Pump" your brakes to slow or stop—don't jam them on. Proper pumping technique is to apply and release the brake pedal rapidly once or twice a second. This intermittent pumping action keeps the wheels rolling and helps maintain steering control.

4. Have good tires with good treads. Good tire treads are always superior to smooth treads on slippery pavements. Even better for snow are snow-tires, which provide half again as much pulling power as regular tires. Studded tires are particularly helpful on icy pavements.

5. Always carry reinforced tire chains in the trunk of your car and use them for severe ice and snow conditions. They provide four to seven times as much traction on snow or ice as regular tires.

6. Keep your windshield and windows clear at all times. Replace streaking wiper blades that may have been baked dry by summer sun. Be sure that your windshield washer solution contains adequate anti-freeze.

NEW PROFESSOR

Dante Della Terza, historian and critic of comparative and Renaissance literature and of 20th century Italian literature, an Arlington resident, will become a professor of Romance Language and Literature at Harvard University next summer.

The 46 year old Della Terza was born in Torella dei Lombardi and studied at the Ginnasio-Liceo Colletta in Avellino, at the Scuola Normale Superiore in Pisa, from which he holds the Diploma di Lettere, and at the University of Pisa, from which he received the Dottorato in Lettere degree in 1947.

He also studied as a Swiss Government Fellow at the University of Zurich.

About Redistricting

The Middlesex County Commissioners will schedule meetings in a number of communities regarding the redistricting of Representatives in the State legislature.

Middlesex County will gain three additional Representatives for a total of 58.

Commissioners Frederick J. Connors, John F. Dever, Jr., and John L. Danahy were notified Friday by Secretary of State John F. Davoren that they must assemble the redistricting information within 30 days in accordance with Chapter 877 of the Acts of 1967.

The Commissioners said they will, on request of responsible residents, try to schedule as many meetings as possible during the period in order to get the widest views and ideas of private citizens and officials of the various communities.

Several communities have already requested such meetings with the Commissioners. Individuals have expressed concern for the political integrity of their areas.

"We understand the concern of the 54 communities in the County," Commission Chairman Connors said, "and we as Middlesex County Commissioners, whose duty it will be to establish the boundaries of each Representative district, share in that concern to assure the most equitable and reasonable apportionment possible."

SCORES KEY GOAL

Tom Frost of Arlington, recently registered a key goal to help the Lehigh Hockey Club upset visiting Utica College, 5-3, for its biggest triumph of the season.

It was the fourth victory in seven starts for Coach Fletcher Johnson's Engineer skaters.

Commissioner Dever, noting that the task of redistricting will have to be accomplished by the three Commissioners by considerable evening work in order to comply with the 30-day deadline, added, "We want to come up with a plan of redistricting that will be fair to all the taxpayers of Middlesex County, giving them all the best representation they expect."

Commissioner Danahy pointed out that the legislative act ordering the re-apportionment of representative districts in the State by County Commissioners, while allowing a certain latitude, requires the most equitable re-apportionment possible. "The meetings and discussions we expect to have over the next few weeks should certainly help us make the right decisions."

The authorizing act declares that it is the intent of the General Court that the members of the House of Representatives shall be apportioned in a fair and non-discriminatory manner and that the districts shall be so established that they will be as nearly equal in population as is practical.

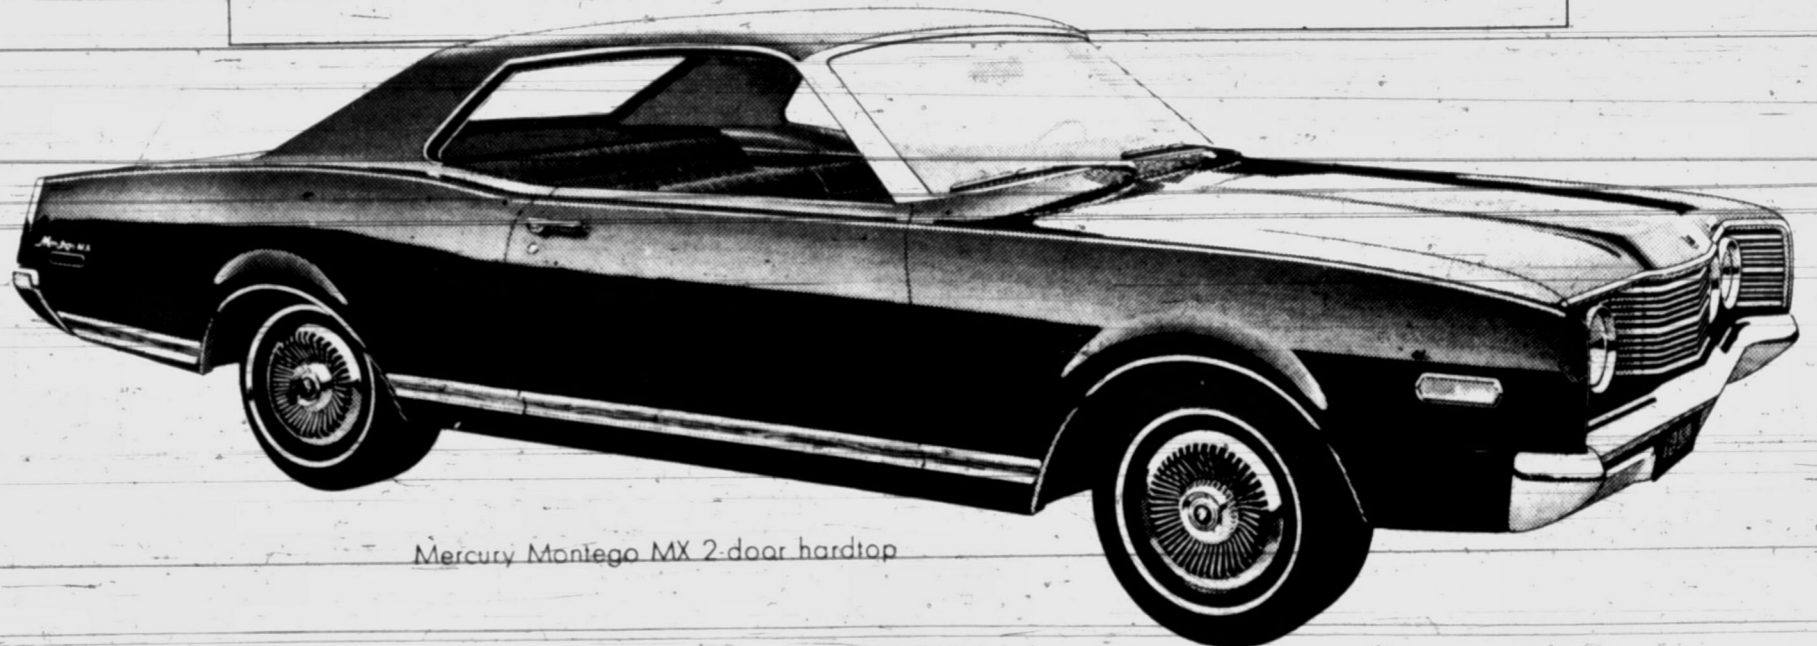

In the act, the Commissioners also noted, the General Court emphasizes the necessity of the Commissioners' complying with the "one man-one vote" standard set by the Supreme Court, it also allows that there can be no exact mathematical compliance with such a standard.

"We have a difficult and thankless task before us," Commissioner Connors said, "but we also have an obligation under the law, and we plan to work hard to see that it is done in the best fashion for all the people of Middlesex County."

Mercury Montego MX 2-door hardtop

People who never gave Mercury a second thought are suddenly thinking of it first. Our new 2-door hardtop, the Montego, is a pretty good reason why.

Montego gives you nearly half a foot more car for about the same money. Its trunk has 20% more usable space. There's more knee room in the back. The longer wheelbase gives a more comfortable ride. It's more car—period.

Why more car? Well, consider where Montego comes from. The Lincoln-Mercury Division. The fingerprints of a Lincoln Continental engineer may be on the springs of your Montego. The Fine Car Touch separates our cars from the others. It's true with everything we make. The 2-door hardtops, 4-door sedans, wagon and convertible—everything.

We suggest you clip our chart and tuck it in your wallet. It makes a good reference piece when you go out to buy a new car. It's also a good reminder that there is somebody who's really trying to give you a little extra for your hard-earned money. The Fine Car Touch inspired by the Continental.

Reminder On Wages

Business firms have been reminded that the minimum wages set by the Fair Labor Standards Act go up on February 1, 1968. The reminder came from Stanley C. Wollaston, Regional Director of the New England Regional Office of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

Wollaston pointed out that the minimum for most covered workers advances to

Your PHARMACIST SPEAKS

H. R. Partamban, B.S., Reg. Ph.

The story of organ transplants is breathtaking in its implications. The extremely delicate surgical technique of organ transplants still has a long way to go. But slowly and surely success are being chalked up which would have been impossible to achieve even five years ago. There are many persons in the United States today who are alive because their blood is being purified by a transplanted kidney. Most of these successful transplants have been between identical twins; a few have involved people with no relation to each other, and there is one case of a man surviving for a few weeks with a kidney transplanted from a chimpanzee. Transplant operations are still in the raw experimental stage. Yet what we've seen so far proves that spare-parts operations will be an accomplished fact in the near future.

Arlington Stuns Brockton 66-61

Co-captain Dave O'Leary scored 26 points before a jammed Brockton High crowd at the Brockton gym as Arlington High pulled the upset of their season to win 66-61. Brockton had only lost one game this year and that to league-leader Weymouth.

The local team went out in front early in the first period outscoring a favored Brockton team 17-12 and held a 31-23 lead at half time.

Brockton outscored Arlington 18-17 in the third period and 20-18 in the final quarter but Arlington's first half score was too much for the Shoe City boys to overcome.

Jim Nigro played his finest game to date as he kept getting the rebounds; he scored 13 points.

Mark Sullivan, a sophomore, did a fine job of covering Sylvia Brockton's high scorer, holding him to 13 points, well below his average.

Jim Keefe's backcourt play was outstanding as Arlington posted its fourth league victory against four losses.

It was a big win for Coach Hill and his boys as the boys had lost a heart-breaker here last Wednesday to Rindge 60-52. The game was tied with four minutes left to play.

This Friday night Arlington goes to Brookline as the teams start the second half of the season.

On Swim Team

John Lind, a senior at North Park College, Chicago, is a member of the varsity swimming team, coached by Art Edstrom.

John is listed on the current roster as a breaststroke swimmer. He stands 5'9" tall and weighs 170 pounds. In high school he played at Arlington High for two years under coach Al Waterfield.

J.V.'s, Rindge In Hockey Title

Wayne Hale and Bob Herlihey scored goals in the first period as the Arlington High J.V. hockey team was held to a tie with Rindge last week at the Arena.

Rindge came back in the second period to score its first goal and late in the final period tallied the equalizer.

John Binkoski and Dave Egan played in the nets for Arlington.

John Ranauro did an outstanding job on defense for the locals breaking up several two on one rushes by the Rindge team.

Next Wednesday afternoon the Arlington J.V.'s play Cambridge and hope to improve their three win-one tie-no loss record.

school he played at Arlington High school for two years under coach Al Waterfield.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Lind, who reside at 17 Orlando Ave., Arlington.

Streaking

The Arlington Pee Wee team of the Greater Boston Youth Hockey Association after a rather poor start has started on a winning streak. The team sponsored by the Arlington Hockey Club was not expected to win many games in its first season in the fast, well established Boston Youth league at the Braintree Rink.

However, in its last two games it defeated Needham, one of the leagues best clubs 3-2 and last week held the great Belmont team to a 4-1 tie.

The team is outfitted by a local businessman from the East End and has the following boys on its roster: Steve Maskell, Joey Jordan, Kevin O'Quinn, Steve Coughlin, Alan Jackson, Brian Burns, Paul Lewis, John Abruzzese, Mike Shea, Jack Karry, Gerard Chasia, John Mahoney, Mike Manning, Steve Ballereth, and Kim Normandin.

scored against Arlington since the Medford game in December.

Before the second period was over Kent Davison scored with Russell and Brine getting assists on the score, to give Arlington a 2-1 lead.

Billy Corkery scored a pair of goals in the final period. Davison and Russell had assists on the first tally and Corkery's other goal was scored without an assist. Tim Russell had a third period goal with Corkery and Davison getting assists.

The Brookline team knocked Medford out of first place 5-2 and moved into a tie with Arlington. This Saturday the two teams meet for the second time this season. Arlington shut out Brookline in the seasons opener 5-0 for Brookline's only loss.

Arlington lost its only game of the season to Medford 2-1 right after Christmas.

Goalies Joe Bertagna and Herb Richardson have kept Arlington's opponents scoreless in four of seven games with only six goals scored against them this season.

Pick Diamond the Brookline net minder has had 11 tallies scored on him so the game may see two of the better goalies in action in a game that is a must win for both clubs. Arlington leads the league in scoring with 38 goals with Brookline next with 27.

HARVARD TRUST GUARANTEES

5% FOR FIVE FULL YEARS
PER ANNUM COMPOUNDED QUARTERLY

In fact, we guarantee you will earn:

when Growth and Discount Certificates are held to maximum maturity.

Harvard Trust Company is issuing its own Investment Certificates. These provide you a sound investment opportunity with a guaranteed maximum legal interest rate of 5% a year for 5 years.

Actually, Harvard Trust is guaranteeing 5.64%. That's what the rate of interest amounts to per year when you hold a Harvard Trust Growth or Discount Investment Certificate to final maturity.

Here's what you can now get for your money at Harvard Trust Company:

• Your 5.64% Interest is Completely Guaranteed

No matter what happens in the next five years the interest on Harvard Trust Investment Certificates cannot go down. On both Harvard Trust Growth and Discount Investment Certificates, the compounding of interest results in a yield of 5.64% per year if held to final maturity. We guarantee it!

• You Start Earning Interest the Day your Certificate is Issued

No waiting until the first of the quarter or the first of the month to start drawing interest. With Harvard Trust Investment Certificates, your interest starts the day your Certificate is issued and continues right up to maturity date.

• Flexible Redemptions — No Penalty of Rate

Harvard Trust Investment Certificates are redeemable without notice within 7 days following any quarterly anniversary with no penalty of rate or interest. Harvard Trust Investment Certificates are redeemable on 90 days notice in writing. Such notice returns every dollar you have invested and every bit of interest earned without the need to wait for a quarterly anniversary date.

• Three Different Plans for Different Needs

1. Harvard Trust Growth Certificates (Plan A) they keep on growing in value every day of every year with interest paid to you in a lump sum at maturity.
2. Harvard Trust Discount Certificates (Plan B) these make great gifts. Reason: they keep on growing in value and give the recipient more for your money.
3. Harvard Trust Income Certificates (Plan C) these provide guaranteed income without affecting the principal.

New Group of Paintings

A new group of colorful paintings will grace the walls of Symmes Hospital during the months of February and March.

Richard Wharton, President of the Arlington Art Association, reports that at the January meeting, held at the Robins Library, twelve recent paintings by members were selected to be hung at Symmes.

The paintings are "Yesterday" by Alfred Giacinto, "Big City Blues" and "Corinth Canal" by Gay Bellizia.

"Town Hall" by Carl Johnson, "Fall Woodlands" and "New England Harvest" by Charlotte Davidson, "City" by Prudence Green, "Driftwood" by Harold Knight, "Incoming Tide" and "Quiet Pool" by Phillip MacFarlane, "Oranges" by Anna Basti, and "Inside My Home" by Gideon Cohen.

The Arlington Art Association also cooperates with a number of other civic interests in hanging paintings for display.

Married in St. Agnes

At a 10 o'clock Nuptial Mass on January 20, at St. Agnes' Church, Arlington, Miss Nancy Elaine Traverso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Attilio Traverso, 36 Addison st., Arlington, was married to Mr. John Francis Egan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Egan, 11 Duren ave., Woburn.

The Rev. Philip G. McGinty performed the ceremony and a reception followed at The Towne-Lyne House, Lynnfield.

The bride and bridegroom received the Papal Blessing.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of ivory peau de soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace with a detachable lace court train. The empire bodice of lace had a scooped neckline and elbow length lace sleeves. The A-line skirt was appliqued with lace on the front and hemline. Her three tier, elbow length veil of Heath illusion fell from a camelot hat of lace. She carried a cascade of Eucharis lilies and stephanotis.

Mrs. Paul Belluche of Billerica was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pomegranate saki, with empire bodice, scooped neckline and elbow length sleeves. The A-line skirt was trimmed with reverse self fabric. Her headpiece was a matching Dior bow and she carried miniature corsages and American Beauty roses.

Identically gowned were the bridesmaids Miss Martha Egan, of Woburn, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Margaret Garraty of Somerville; and Mrs. James A. Treanor of Washington, D. C. They carried cascades of miniature carnations.

Mr. John Cullinane of Somerville was best man.

Ushers were Mr. Nello Traverso of Manchester, Mass., brother of the bride, Mr. Robert Traverso of Belmont, and Mr. Richard Frassa of Cambridge.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of bronze brocade with a matching Chanel jacket. The bridegroom's mother's costume was a moss green dress with gold and green brocade coat.

Miss Traverso attended Catherine Laboure School of Nursing and is presently employed as an occupational nurse at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Mr. Egan attended Providence and Stonehill Colleges and studied Marine Biology at Boston University. He is now serving with the United States Navy.

Following the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Bermuda.

A Statistic Called Ann

"A Statistic Called Ann" a filmed case history of an unwed mother was presented Jan. 17 in Junior Library Hall to the Florence Crittenton League, Arlington Circle.

Mrs. Sharon Leiter, social worker at Hastings House conducted an enthusiastic question period after showing this frank and provocative film.

In other activities Mrs. G. Victor Mea of Arlington presented an account of the life of concert pianist and composer Mrs. H. H. A. Beach of New Hampshire and Cambridge. Mrs. Mea played some of her compositions.

Mrs. G. Edward Wilkins and Mrs. Joseph Barbano served a petite luncheon. Mrs. Andrew Magnus poured.

Mrs. Morand Caldwell, president conducted the business meeting. She then introduced the guests: Mrs. Carol Chaplain, Mrs. Mary Cutts, Mrs. John J. Cox, Mrs. Carl Foster, Mrs. Theodore Gray, Mrs. Alden Hittle, Mrs. Richard Rice, Mrs. Fred Welt and Mrs. George Young.

Writers Lead a Double Life

All writers live a double life, according to Ben Bova, Arlington author, who spoke Jan. 19, at the first meeting of this year of the Friends of the Robbins Library.

On the one hand, he said, writers live as everyone else does working at their jobs and taking care of their families. On the other hand they try to put down on paper how the world looks to them, and say something about the human condition. Science fiction presents special problems, he said, as this involves strange locales to make real to readers.

He also discussed work habits of writers, some of whom can write under difficult conditions but others need a special atmosphere. The book, he said, leads a triple life, first as the author realizes it, second as the editor sees it, and third as the critics evaluate it.

Keen interest in Ben Bova's talk was evidenced by a number of questions following his preliminary remarks.

George K. Rugg, Chairman of the program committee, presided at the meeting. He introduced Mrs. Alfred Yood, who spoke about plans for National Library Week.

The observance to be sponsored by the Friends of the Robbins Library will be held on Thursday, April 25, with Tom Poston as speaker. Mr. Rugg then called for volunteers to assist with the observance.

Workshop Series

He next introduced Miss Elizabeth J. Hodges, Assistant Librarian, who spoke about two workshop series open to the public and free of charge to be held soon in the Robbins Library.

There will be a repetition of the Workshop on Information and Personal Research, which was held on Tuesday evenings last November.

This time, however, it will take place from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. on four Tuesday mornings, Feb. 13, 20 and 27 and on March 5. Preliminary plans were also announced for a writers workshop to be held on the four Thursday mornings in March.

Following these announcements, Norris H. Hoyt, Chairman of the Robbins Library Board of Trustees, spoke about the plans for an addition to the East Branch Library.

Bids recently opened, he said, were all so high that all had to be rejected, but the trustees still recognize the need for an addition and decided they would be derelict in their responsibilities if they did not ask the Town to support this important project.

A discussion followed with a number of people present expressing a lively interest in favor of additional facilities at the East Branch of the Robbins Library.

"Public School Is Not The Same As When I Was Young"

The field of education is rapidly changing and so often parents are heard to say, "School is not the same as when I was young". How true this statement is in light of the changes that have taken place in the past one hundred years or even in the last ten years. So often parents feel left out when the child comes home and expounds the virtues of S.M.S.G., Controlled Reading, Language Masters and Overhead Projectors and what an interesting place school is today. The new educational jargon leaves the parent awe-struck and at a loss for an answer to the ever increasing volume of questions that their children ask.

The staff at Hardy School are aware of the need to inform the parent as to what is happening in school and to the new techniques, trends and materials that are worked with in classrooms with these thoughts in mind, the parents of Hardy School children recently were invited to a demonstration of instructional materials and programs now in operation at the school.

Mr. Bernard Walsh, Acting Principal, directed the program for the evening and addressed the interested parents before the PTA meeting that was held prior to the small workshops. He stressed the importance of becoming informed parents who are interested in the education of their children. The teachers and the parents are vital members of the educational system and their cooperation can best be seen in the growth of the educational offerings within the Arlington School system. He pointed out that the educational system was no longer the days of the "Little Red School House" but has taken on monumental proportions, that begin its formal training at the Kindergarten level. Mr. Walsh co-ordinated the program with the staff and it led to a very interesting and informative evening for all the parents at Hardy.

Overhead Projector

Several areas were set up in the playground of the school that displayed many of the newest materials and mechanical devices that are employed to supplement the teaching in the classroom. Over 300 had the opportunity to sit, observe and even use these materials and machines as their children do in school and it was quite apparent that they enjoyed this look into the school.

Some of the demonstration areas that were set up included one devoted to the overhead projector as shown by Miss Claire Winters of the fifth grade. Miss Winters displayed some of the varied materials that are being used in the classes and how the children themselves use this necessary tool of education.

This machine allows the teachers to face the class at all times and get instant reaction to the lesson that is being taught and one may say, immediate feedback to the material being presented.

The children have found that they can all see the visual presentation from any point within the room and are anxious to use the machine themselves in Math, Social Studies (Geography) when we went to school and many other areas where it has proven its usefulness.

Operation Male and S.R.A.

Several members of the new project, "Operation Male" that is currently being carried on in the Thompson, Stratton and the Hardy were on hand to discuss the purpose of the project and the role of the Male in the Kindergarten, First and Second grades.

Mr. Timothy Wilson, the male aid at the first grade level joined Miss Joan Walbridge, and Mrs. Orphelia Richards both regular staff members of the second grade. They explained their involvement in the program and how the children are being aided by both the men and women in the program.

To see the men working with the children at the lower levels and to see the enthusiastic take on their faces while involved either in reading, language arts, or art tells one that this program has brought a new meaning to the child of the man's role in the educational system. The parents were delighted to have an opportunity to speak with the participants in Operation Male.

Science Research Associates, a term that long had many parents in the dark to its operation became a little clearer as several of these programmed kits covering many grade levels in the area of reading were explained by Miss Marcia Galligan of grade four and Miss Dorothy Edmunds of grade one.

The teachers invited questions from the parents as to how this programmed reading approach work and they themselves had the opportunity to use the materials. Listening lessons, color levels and phonetic development cards all meant much more to the parents when they left that evening.

Cyclo Teacher

Mrs. Marcy Sigler of grade six showed the role of the Cyclo Teacher as it is presently being used at school. The Cyclo Teacher resembles a lift up desk, inside of which can be inserted several program wheels that allow the teacher to have the youngster use this tool of learning at the desk and get immediate response to any questions that he may have to answer.

The teachers may use the pre-planned commercial wheels or they may design their own unit work depending upon the area that is being covered at that time. This useful tool has enriched the classroom learning situation and believe it or not, it does make school fun even though some of your children may debate that point!

"Tune-in - listen carefully and adjust the volume" are the opening remarks made by Mrs. Christine Kwarinski when a designated group are ready to use the listening head sets, a different looking table that allows the children to listen quietly to a lesson on tapes at their own individual listen station.

Two of these machines are being used at the present time in the school and the parents found these machines most interesting. The teacher has pre-planned a programmed lesson in several areas on tapes that the child may listen to while the teacher works with a separate group in another related subject in the classroom.

The child often hears over the tape directions for doing the accompanying worksheet at the end of the lesson - all by means of the tape.

A unique tool that gives the individual child an opportunity not only get individual attention, but at the same time it allows the teacher to reach many more children within the time limits of a single class period.

Language Masters

Language Masters as demonstrated by Miss Joan Gnecco, are being used in many of our schools as well as here at Hardy. This machine is being handled by the teachers in order to work with those youngsters that are foreign language speaking and has proven quite successful in aiding them to adjust to the English language.

The child works alone with assistance from a program instructor, whose voice is recorded on tapes.

Each card has a picture that allows the child to get visual representation of what the instructor is saying. The child then manipulates the card and records his own voice and gets an immediate feedback as to how his voice sounds and how much alike it is to the programmed instructors'. Learning English through this method has indeed proved rewarding for the new student to our country.

Individualized Reading has been carried on at Hardy for several years, and the results are extremely rewarding for our children. They are able to choose books that are of an interest to them and at the same time, because of the unique feature of one teacher and one child working in the area of reading, the child gains a great deal from this individual attention.

Each day of the week there are lessons that are organized to give the most out of reading program to the child. Alone and with other children in the reading class, the individualized approach to reading has allowed each child to approach his particular area of interest in the selection of books. Miss Lucille Cunnane extolled the merits of this program and has found it very rewarding both to the teacher and the child.

Controlled Reader

Mrs. Catherine White of the sixth grade demonstrated the Controlled Reader, a machine that allows the teacher to adjust the speed at which the children read and yet allows her to keep track of their comprehension levels by a well programmed lesson that accompanies each lesson. This tool in the classroom has helped increase the speed of many of the children and at the same time, it enables the teacher to work with two groups of children on separate skills. Many parents had a hard time reading at the highest speed but hope to improve after their children keep them in touch with their reading program.

Two other machines that caught the interested eyes of the parents, have been in use a long time at school but are an integral part of our program. Miss Bonnie Lea and Miss Susan Purcell demonstrated the Opaque Projector a versatile machine that allowed us to reproduce an enlargement of pictorial or printed matter that can easily be seen by all the children in the classroom. Miss Janet Ronayne demonstrated that many uses of the filmstrip machine as a teaching device.

Thermo-Fax Copier, a new addition to the school as shown by Mrs. Mary Ann Bruning, is a time saver to the teachers indeed. It makes transparencies, paper copies and ditto masters in less time than ever possible before. As a teacher aid, it has no equal in helping better prepare interesting and thought provoking lessons.

All the materials that we talked about are in current use at Hardy, children are indeed fortunate to have them. Education has evolved from the slate and chalk to the era where machines are aiding the teacher to provide a better education for all children.
